

I have been exceptionally happy with the performance of Indiana's Telephone Privacy law. I get the legitimate calls I need. I am not annoyed by callers trying to sell me products and/or services I have not solicited. If I want a product or service, I will contact an appropriate vendor. I work at night. The only calls I want interrupting my sleep during the day are emergency calls from family or friends. Please take the victims of these companies under consideration when you review this action. They /do/ cause damage to some people in the form of missed sleep or missed calls (due to the phone being muted while sleeping) in my case. I am sure they impact other people more direly yet.
